Cytology smears (FNAC of thyroid swelling).

History

C/o Solitary nodule in left lobe of thyroid.

Gross Examination

--

Microscopic Examination

Cytology smears show many clumps of follicular epithelial cells, which show mild nuclear pleomorphism. Many microfollicles are seen. The background is hemorrhagic and shows scanty thin colloid along with fair number of macrophages.

Diagnosis

Cytology findings are suggestive of a follicular neoplasm.

Suggested

1. Correlation with clinical and USG / radiological findings.
2. Excision biopsy for a definite opinion.
